

GOOD FRIDAY 2013

What do you think: was the crucifixion of Jesus for humanity to prove something to God or was it for God to prove something to us?

If the crucifixion of Jesus was for God to prove something to us then surely it must have been to prove how important we are to God.

If God was willing to become one of us, to endure the shame of crucifixion and to die on a Roman cross, then we must be of enormous worth in God's eyes.

Imagine that!
